JUDGES DECIDE IN FAVOR OF DONORA IN ANNUAL CONTEST

Second High School Literary "Meet" Results in Division of Honors

CHARLEROI GETS THE ESSAY

Miss Freda Whitehead Outclassed Opponent—Charleroi Debating Team, in Opinion of Crowd Wins—Surprise Occasioned

By an adverse decision of the board of three judges—Charleroi high school lost in the second annual literary contest with Donora high school Friday night at Donora. The judges were Dr. H. P. Hapton, president of Waynesburg College; J. Orton Lowe, assistant superintendent of the Allegheny county schools, and D. P. Samstine, principal of the Peabody high school of Pittsburgh. By the decision of the judges the two schools are now tied for honors, Charleroi high having won the first contest in Charleroi last year.

Fully 150 went from Charleroi to attend the contest and with a vast number of Donora people packed the Grand theatre, where the contest was staged. Music was furnished by the Donora high school orchestra and individual performers.

The decision went to Donora on everything but the essay, which the judges accorded to Miss Freda Whitehead of Charleroi. In the debate, counting 45 points, the judges occasioned surprise by placing the victory on the Donora team, supporting the negative of the question, "Resolved That the Monroe Doctrine should be continued as part of the permanent foreign policy of the United States." Their decision was at variance with that of the crowd. Congratulations preceding the decision had even been extended the Charleroi debaters, Ernest Dorbritz and Edwin Booth, by Donora people, who admitted a Charleroi victory. In the oration Harold Finley of Donora was given the palm over Russell Carl of Charleroi and in the reading the judges awarded the honors to Christina Mayer over Felicie Bosson of Charleroi.

Miss Whitehead as winner of the essay contest had an essay on "The Cry of the Children." Her discussion was that of the child labor problem and it showed careful preparation. In point of delivery it was excellent. She deserved the victory she won. Her opponent, Miss Pauline McInerney of Donora, "Exit—John Barleycorn." Her presentation was interesting.

In the debate the Charleroi team ably supported the affirmative. Ernest Dorbritz was the first speaker. The Monroe Doctrine should be continued, he affirmed because it had proven itself a valuable policy in its test of 100 years and through its greatly needed protection of American rights and property including valuable coal-mining station of the Caribbean sea.

The Charleroi argument was continued in fine style by Edwin Booth who pointed out that historical facts had shown the true value of the document to the American people, and that it had not, as the negative claimed, been a document to collect debts.

The delivery of the two Charleroi debaters was a strong point. They each showed a masterly knowledge of their subject and careful preparation of the same. They were oratorically brilliant. In their rebuttal they were especially strong. Edwin Booth of the Charleroi team drew hearty applause in his rebuttal, this being the only applause of the evening in the course of a performance.

Of the Donora team Helen Moskovitz was the strongest debater. Carl Altenhof outlined the points, declaring the Monroe Doctrine had outgrown its usefulness, that it was a menace to peace and safety, detrimental to industry and commerce, was inconsistent with national or international law and was only a tradition. Miss Moskovitz argued along the same lines. She maintained the Monroe Doctrine was not an ethical document and consequently was a worthless doctrine.

Russell Carl delivered in good style his oration, "The Battle Cry of Peace." Forcefully he marshaled his points and delivered his oration in a masterly way. His opponent Harold Finley showed a natural ability in his oration on "Crimes Against Criminals."

Christina Mayer of Donora was first of the readers to appear. She was effective in her presentation of "The Sign of the Cross." However the crowd was swayed emotionally when Felicie Bosson of Charleroi, recited with telling effect the piece, "The Honor of the Woods." With the crowd it appeared plain Miss Bosson would win—but the judges decided differently.

At the conclusion of the program the judges were announced by Prof. Edgar Reed, superintendent of the Donora schools. They retired and within a moment brought in their decision, it being announced without comment or explanation of reasons by Prof. D. P. Sumstine.

Two New Postoffices.

Two new postoffices have been established in Washington county during the last few weeks. An office has been established at Vestaburg at some new workings of the Vesta Coal Co. At present the mail is supplied from Fredericktown. Southview is the name of another office established near McDonald. Mail to this office is supplied by rural carrier from McDonald. The postoffice at Cliftonville, W. Va., just over the state line was ordered discontinued. This action has now been rescinded and the office will be continued.

BUONO TRIAL WILL COME UP ON MAY 17

Murder Case to be Hard Fought—Self Defense Plea May be Made by Man Accused of Killing of Another in Barber Shop

August Buono, accused murderer of Chicago Sanfillipi will be placed in many points to that told by Buono upon his arrest at Elwood, Ind., a few weeks ago. However they differ in that Buono claims he shot Sanfillipi when the latter threatened to kill him. Domestic troubles were at the bottom of the shooting. Buono's wife being the woman in the case. The case will probably be fought out at the May term. There is no reason to believe that it will be continued.

The killing of Sanfillipi occurred at a McKean avenue barber shop November 26, 1914. Stories first told by Sanfillipi's friends and brought out

WALLACE-HAGENBECK CIRCUS HERE MAY 13

One of Greatest Traveling Organizations of the Day to Show in Charleroi—Many Rich Attractions Including Some From Abroad

The Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Shows Combined will visit Charleroi on Saturday May 13.

For more than a quarter of a century the Great Wallace circus has been the best in all the land. Several years ago the big circus was consolidated with Carl Hagenbeck's trained wild animal exhibition. Carl Hagenbeck, before his death was the "animal king" and the combination of the two shows for a single price of admission makes it something unheard of in the amusement world. With few exceptions great arctic acts originate in Europe. They are invariably introduced in America by the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus, which maintains agencies in Europe and Asia for the purpose of keeping in touch with the latest achievements.

The Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus has either originated all great attractions in the past few years or have searched them out from distant lands. It has offices in London, Liverpool, Paris, Berlin, Hamburg, Vienna, Constantinople, Calcutta, Hong Kong and Buenos Ayres. Its agents are always looking for novelties. B. E. Wallace may be justly called the "circus king" as he is the largest individual circus owner in the entire world. His name has been lipped by the mouths of two generations of children.

Today the circus has reached a size that is giving the railroad much concern. If the three trains were any longer they could not handle them. It enrolls almost 1,000 people who travel along with the show. It has over 813 horses and animals, together with three herds of elephants. All of the equipment throughout this season is new. It cost the owner, Mr. Wallace, $3,000,000. The parade alone represents a cash outlay of $1,000,000. The menagerie is worth half as much. The best circus artists in the world have been engaged for this season; there are 400 of them.

Doors to the big show will be opened at 1 and 7 p. m. Performance will begin an hour later. The parade leaves the grounds at 10 o'clock.

Special Prices On Flowers
Roses today, hundreds of them, 60 cents per dozen. Baskets and mixed flowers in great variety, 35, 50, 75 and $1.00 up. Bouquets and mixed flowers 25 and 50 cents up. Kinder Floral Company, 608 Fallowfield Avenue. 270-t1—

POST LENTEN DANCE PLEASING FUNCTION

Night's Auditorium is Scene of Festive Event of the Spring Season—Splendid Decorative Effects Obtained in Lavender and White.

With guests present from such out-of-town points as Monongahela, Elizabeth, Uniontown, Donora, Greensburg and Washington, one of the most pleasing social events of the winter and spring season was given Friday evening at Night's auditorium in the form of a Post Lenten dance by a committee of men. About 55 couples were present.

For the occasion the auditorium was handsomely decorated. Festoons were suspended from the ceiling and each light were attached coverings of lavender. A subdued lighting effect that was beautiful was the result. Seats were white covered. The entire decorative effect was carried out in lavender and white.

Dancing was from eight to two, the music being furnished by the Nosokoff-Maggio orchestra, one of the best from the Pittsburgh district. Toward midnight a two course luncheon was served.

Members of the committee in charge of affairs were D. M. McCloskey, Esq., Guy Moffitt, Esq., Tom A. Mosier, Edwin W. Patton, R. H. Rush and Ewing B. Todd.

Patronesses were Mrs. Charles S. Bateman, Mrs. J. Clive Enos, Mrs. L. P. Flickinger, Jr., Mrs. George W. Might, Mrs. R. C. Mountser Mrs. C. R. Peregrine, Mrs. E. E. Piper and Mrs. R. Hughes Rush.

To Organize Young People.
Lloyd O. Hart, superintendent of Secondary Division work in Washington county and Miss Mable Guttery, who is a member of the state council and president of the county girls council will be in Charleroi at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock Sunday to organize a young peoples council. They wish to meet a boy and a girl between the ages of 16 and 21 from each school in the district with their teachers.

To Conduct Special Service.
Sunday evening Rev. E. N. Duty, pastor of the First Christian church will preach on the subject "The Church School." The service will be a special service, "The Bible School at Church" and the different classes of the school will attend in a body. A graduation class will receive their diplomas in the Teacher Training course. Special music will be a feature of the service.

LAWS AGAINST SPITTING TO HAVE A RIGID ENFORCEMENT

FIRE DESTROYS OFFICE AND PLANT AT RICHHILL MINES

Blaze of Unknown Origin Does $6,000 Damage—Will Take $5,000 to Replace Filtration Plant

Fire of unknown origin Friday evening burned the office building and filtration plant at the Richhill mines of the United Coal company at Arden. The loss will be about $6,000.

Between 700 and 800 men were at work in the mine when the electric power was shut off and suspension of operations became necessary. The men came to the surface and assisted in fighting the flames, which gained headway rapidly and threatened other property about the mine entrance.

The office building was a small structure, worth probably about $1,000. The filtration plant, however, was up-to-date and cannot be replaced for less than $5,000. In it water was freed of acids and impurities for use in the boilers.

The Richhill mine is one of the largest and most profitable properties of the United Coal company, with offices in the First National bank building at Pittsburgh.

STRIKE QUESTION DEBATED AGAIN

Car Men Concede Two Cents in Their Negotiations—Say That is Final

SETTLEMENT IS CONSIDERED

Conceding two cents, members of the executive board of Division No. 85, Street Car Men, in a joint meeting with the officials of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, Friday afternoon, declared it to be the last word from the car men. The next maximum pay asked is 36 cents an hour, against 30 cents an hour, the present maximum wage. The original demand was for 38 cents an hour. After making this concession, notification was issued that a meeting scheduled for Friday night was called off but that the question would be discussed at a joint conference this morning.

The 36 cents an hour maximum, it was said, is one cent an hour less than the new maximum recently conceded the Chicago car men by arbitration. This amount is to be reached after three years service, the car men announced and also that the least they can accept will be 30 cents an hour for the first year's service and 33 cents an hour for the second year.

The basis of settlement, wages occupying the conference almost exclusively, was considered for nearly four hours Friday. The conference room in the Philadelphia company building held a larger number of representatives than any previous meeting, as J. J. Thorpe, first international vice president, appeared at the conference accompanied for the first time by the entire local executive board of Division No. 85 comprising one rep-

Davis was instructed to write to Burgess S. L. Woodward requesting enforcement.

Measles cases were especially numerous in Charleroi during April, according to the report of Health Officer W. M. Darby. Cases reported were 168. Other diseases were: Chicken pox 5 and whooping cough 7. Homes quarantined were 127 and there at present 86 cards up. Walkout Regarding Doctors Ended
Six hundred men employed at the mines of the Chartiers Creek Coal company have returned to work after having been on strike for 10 days as a result of a disagreement with the mine owners over the selection of a physician. The miners wished to retain the services of Dr. G. F. Ticker, while the operators wanted to employ another physician. The company acceded to the demands of the miners.

AMONG THE THEATRES

PALACE-CHARLEROI

Special vaudeville programs, pictures and interesting announcements for the near future were made at the Palace theatre this week. The first part of the week the feature act of the bill was "Marie McNeill and the Pepper Twins" in an entertaining act of singing, dancing and instrumental music. Miss McNeill as a cornetist was well received and won much applause for her efforts. Dorothy and Arthur Rossell a team of clever comedians and Dottie Cole, who is booked as the female baritone furnished the other numbers of the program. Cavanaugh and Shubert black and tan comedians. The Martells, plastic and clayon artists and a trio of singers and dancers made up the program for the last part of the week. Manager Barnhart has just signed a contract with the Mutual Film company for the Charlie Chaplin pictures. One picture will be shown each month the first "Charlie Chaplin as the Floor Walker" will be shown in the near future.

MAJESTIC-CHARLEROI

Manager W. S. Sweeney at the Majestic theatre this week made a feature of five-reel films, carrying out a week's program of unusual merit. The headliner attraction of Monday when a good show was presented to large crowds, was "The Havoc", a five-reel Kleins was offered to the story. Telling a heart-interest narrative, the five-reel Mutual film, "Accused" was presented Tuesday. Good acting made it a big picture. Wednesday "The Destroying Angel", a five-reel Kleins was offered to the Majestic patrons and it pleased. In scenic effects and in story it was an absorbing drama. On Thursday "Life's Blind Alley", another of the famous Mutual attractions was featured, and on Friday the program shows Virginia Pearson and S. Rankin Drew in the Vitaphone production, "The Hunted Woman". A enjoyable drama is anticipated Saturday in "The Cycle of Fate", a Selig film with Wheeler Oakman, famous for his work in "The Ne'er-do-Well".

COYLE THEATRE

One of the biggest features this week at the Coyle theatre was the appearance Thursday and Friday of Mary Pickford in the Paramount film "Poor Little Peppina." This great drama is a masterly presentation. In it Miss Pickford assumes the role of a child of wealthy Americans kidnapped by Italians and made to work in a Sicilian vineyard, a stowaway disguised as a boy, a newsie, a boot black, a fruit vender, an employee of an opium den, a messenger boy, and finally the restored millionaire's daughter who comes into her own. Monday's feature was "Slander" with Bertha Kalich. The Tuesday Paramount attraction was "To Have and to Hold" with Mae Murray in the leading role. On Wednesday the famous Mabel Taliferro was featured in "Her Great Prize." A big variety program is booked for Saturday. Coming next week is the great Selig booking, "The Ne'er-do-Well", from Rex Beach's novel of the same name.

STRAND-CHARLEROI

The usual amount of good pictures was shown at the Strand theatre this week. Monday's attraction was "The City" a five part production by the Shubert company. In this picture modern New York life was depicted disclosing the evils of the great metropolis. On Tuesday Norma Tal-madge enacted the leading role of "The Missing Link" a highly dramatic picture released by the Triangle Program company. "Because He Loved Her" a Keystone comedy with Sam Bernard in the feature role was also shown Tuesday. On Wednesday "The Depth's", which was the title of the week's instalment of the serial picture, "The Strange Case of Mary Page" was shown. Florence Reed and Duncan McRae were shown in a five part special picture "The Woman's Law" Wednesday. Thursday the attraction was "The Struggle" featuring Frank Sheridan. For Saturday a special Triangle program is being announced.

NEW DAVIS-PITTSBURG

May day gladness is rampant in the program of vaudeville which has been arranged for next week, beginning Monday afternoon, May 1 at the New Davis theatre. Although old age will vie with youth for supremacy in theatrical art, the vernal spirit permeates the whole bill. Bessie Clayton, first of American premier dancers, first in point of artistry is coming to exemplify her ideas of the "Dances of Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." She will be assisted by Lester Sheehan, one of the most accomplished and graceful classic dancers of contemporary times and by the famous Clayton Sextet of musicians. No better example of vaudeville's varying contrasts could be afforded than the presence in the bill with Mrs. Clayton and her company of Mrs. Thomas Whiffen, the grand old lady of the American drama, who with the aid of several other players will present Edgar Allan Poe's touching little play, "The Golden Night." Youth will be enthroned in the thirteenth number contributed by Horace Wright and Rene Dietrich, "somewhat different singers," in "A Happy Combination" of operatic popular melodies. This clever young couple, who formerly supported Fritz Schell in opera, will offer an inspiring sketch rich in lyric hitting and verbal witicism. Incidentally they will play the ukalale, that soft toned, vibrating instrument of the Hawaiians in which they received instruction from natives on their recent stay in Honolulu. A variety of other attractions will be included in the program, which will number nine specialties.

ALVIN-PITTSBURG

The opening opera for the season of grand opera at the Alvin beginning May 1 will be "Carmen" sung by the Aborn English Grand Opera company, under the personal direction of Milton and Sargent Aborn. Bizet's famous romantic and dramatic work will be given four performances with a popular matinee on Wednesday. Some of the notable artists who will alternate in the leading roles will be Jane Herbert, Gertrude Francis, Eileen Castles, Gladys Chandler, Fritz Von Busing, Mary Louise Biggers, Morton Adkins, Leonid Samaloff, Fausto Castellani, Calvatore Giordano, Antonio Agostini, George Shields and a chorus of fifty trained voices, selected from the Metropolitan. Chicago, Boston and other opera organizations whose seasons have closed. There will be an augmented orchestra and the Messrs Aborn will introduce to Pittsburgh music lovers for the first time Ignazio Del Castello, the latest Spanish conductor to come to America. He comes direct from the Royal Palatial Teatro Colon in Buenos Aires. During the engagement here the Messrs Aborn will continue their policy of exchanging artists from their other companies singing in New York, Baltimore, Newark and Brooklyn, thereby affording Pittsburgh an opportunity of seeing and hearing a wide and diversified number of artists in similar roles. In this way one has the opportunity of studying more thoroughly the various interpretations of the famous characters in the repertoire of the masterpieces which will be given during the limited engagement. For the latter half of the week that ever-popular poetic opera, "The Tales of Hoffmann," will be sung with a cast to be announced later.

GRAND-PITTSBURG

In many ways the Shakespeare Tercentenary celebration at the Grand Opera house this week is the most noteworthy dramatic performance given in Pittsburgh since the rarefied engagement here of the Soth-ern-Marlowe week of Shakespearean plays more than a year ago. There are so many elements of unusual interest attendant upon the presentation of Shakespeare's delightful comedy "The Taming of the Shrew" which will introduce the Harry Davis Stock Company in their first appearance in a Shakespearean play as to make it decidedly an extraordinary even in local theatricals. The whole world is celebrating Shakespeare's Tercentenary and Mr. Davis, with his customary enterprise is keeping Pittsburgh prominently in the front on this occasion. He has perfected arrangements with the Augustin Daly estate for the same version of "The Taming of the Shrew" employed at Daly's Theatre, in New York, where it was an unprecedented success. Stage Director Harris has the original manuscript with annotations by Augustin Daly himself, the former producer of the classes of the English speaking stage. Following the "Shrew" the Davis Players will be seen in Eugene Walters vital play "Five Feathers."

YOUTH IN OLD AGE

How to Live to be One Hundred Years Old.

With proper attention to diet, prevention of colds, exercise, plenty of sleep, proper care of the skin and the use of a strengthening tonic like Vinol, years may be added to one's life.

A Civil Veteran, Mr. W. H. Bowers, of Steubenville, Ohio, says: "I am 77 years of age. I suffered from general weakness, nervous breakdown and dizziness. An old doctor recommended Vinol. It built me up so that I was able to go to work as strong and well as ever."

The reason Vinol is so beneficial to old people is because it contains the very elements needed to replace declining strength with renewed vigor, viz—The medicinal elements of fresh cod livers, without oil, peptonate of iron, beef peptonate and a mild tonic wine.

If Vinol fails to build up the feeble weakened system of old people, we will return the amount of money paid us for it. Pipers Drug Store.

"THE NE'ER-DO-WELL" MASTER STORY BY MASTER WRITER

"The Ne'er-Do-Well" by Rev. Hatch, the Selig spectacular drama, filmed by the Selig Polyscope company, features Wheeler Oakman and Kathryn Williams and an all-star cast. The hero is Kirk Anthony, a college graduate and veteran football player, and since graduation the coach of his university team. On the evening following a football victory the last of the season, Kirk and others start out to celebrate. Late that night he finds himself on shipboard, and when he awakens he is without money and without baggage. During the voyage, Kirk becomes acquainted with a woman—A Mrs. Stephen Cortlandt—whom he learns to admire very much. She is really a diplomatic agent of great influence. One day while Kirk is out hunting for riches in a forest bower a Spanish girl who is known only as "Chiquita." He falls desperately in love with her and tries vainly to discover her identity. The story of his making good of his winning of Chiquita despite the counter-plottings of Mrs. Cortlandt of the clearing of his name and of the final decisive intervention in Panamanian affairs of old Darwin K. Anthony is many richly humorous episodes. "The Ne'er-Do-Well" will be shown next Friday at the Coyle theatre.
